

Richard Leonard

Hayball Architects

Director Education Leadership / Research

Richard is an Architect and Director of Hayball, one of Australia's largest architecture practices, with offices in Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane.

Richard is internationally recognised as an expert in helping schools integrate contemporary teaching and learning philosophies into creative design responses. A strong advocate for collaborative and research-driven design, he regularly collaborates with leading education specialists.

Past Chair of the Association for Learning Environments Australasia, Richard is also active at the organisation's international level. He is a member of the Learning Environments applied Research Network (LEaRN) and collaborates with the University of Melbourne where he is Linkage Partner in several ARC research initiatives.

30 May 2017